Kalmon Dolgin Affiliates, Inc. (KDA) co-represented the seller in the sale of a 60,000-square-foot industrial property at 507 Osborn Street in Brooklyn, NY for $6.2 million. KDA co-presidents Neil Dolgin and Kalmon Dolgin made the announcement.

Neil Dolgin of KDA co-represented the seller, Tuck It Away Osborn, LLC with Christopher Halliburton of Halstead Property LLC. Mr. Halliburton also represented the buyer, Knights Collision Experts Inc., a tow-truck business. Knight will use the site for storage of its vehicles.

The two-story, 60,000-square-foot concrete and steel property features high ceilings and lots open space. “In an area that has recently experienced a surge in residential development, 507 Osborn Street is one of just a few industrial buildings left for its intended use,” said Neil Dolgin. “The property’s prime location near a variety of subway lines and major roadways presents an excellent opportunity for a tow-truck company.”

In 2012, Kalmon Dolgin Affiliates represented Tuck It Away in its purchase of the building, which at the time was owned by the Imperial Paper Box Corporation.

Located between Lott Avenue and Newport Street in the Brownsville section of Brooklyn, 507 Osborn Street offers access to the #3 and L subway lines, the East New York Long Island Rail Road station, the Belt Parkway, and the Jackie Robinson and Brooklyn Queens expressways.
