The Industry's First Agent Network Tool

Through the use of data-driven proprietary technology, your agent is strategically connected to the city's entire brokerage community.

90%
Percentage of buyers that come through an agent

Analyze

Your agent analyzes your property across 350+ parameters in a matter of seconds to determine similar sold listings.

Identify

Given the analysis, your agent identifies which top brokers within the community are most likely to represent the ideal buyer.

Connect

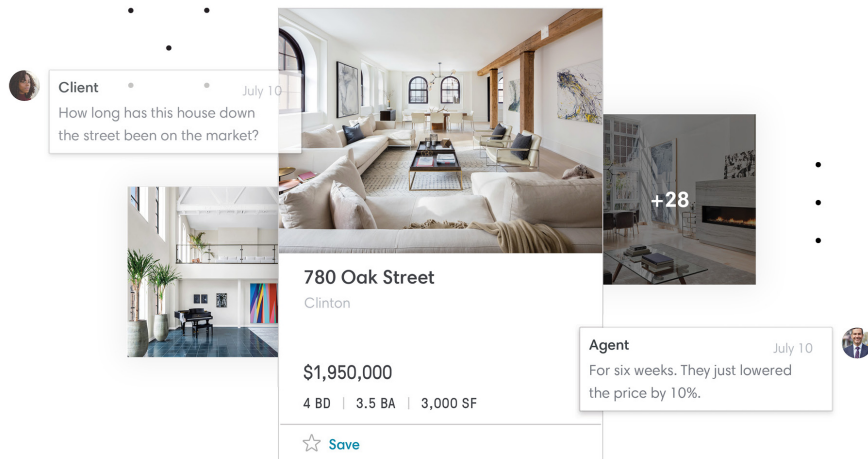

Next, your agent will correspond with these top brokers through a series of email campaigns and targeted outreach.

Real Estate's Only Seller-Minded Workspace

Compass agents illuminate the selling process with data, expertise, and technology, including our newest proprietary tool — Collections.

Collections

With Collections, you can now get a comprehensive sense of where your home — its neighborhood, amenities, size — fits into the current real estate market. After creating an account, easily keep a pulse on housing trends in real time and stay in constant contact with your agent about your home's pricing strategy and buyer feedback.

Collaborate . .

Engage with your agent in real time to make important decisions about the sale of your home.

Monitor . .

Receive automated price and status updates about your home and the homes most relevant to yours.

Discuss . . .

Share comments about your home and comparable homes with your Compass agent in a centralized place.
